

SHORT CV FRANCOIS CAUCHY

François Cauchy is currently associate professor in the department of HPB and liver transplantation at Beaujon Hospital, France and will be senior consultant in HPB surgery and Transplantation at Geneva University Hospital from January 1st 2023. His topics of interests mainly involve primary liver tumors, mini invasive HPB surgery, Transplant Oncology and innovative techniques in liver transplantation. He leads various national trials on mini-invasive liver surgery and liver transplantation and is also responsible for several cohorts gathering resected and transplanted HCC patients. He has published more than 140 articles in various international peer reviewed journals and is reviewer for more than 25 international journals.